Aldridge,Susan. Biomanufacturing in Limelight. Genetic Engineering & Biotechnology News

Vol. #:27 Issue:1 Starting Page:1 (2007) Abstract: Researchers discuss improvements for processing and manufacturing biologics.

Bassett,Bart and Garcia,Sergio. Offshoring Your Intellectual Property. Genetic Engineering &

Biotechnology News Vol. #:27 Issue:1 Starting Page:10 (2007) Abstract: Planning ahead when developing intellectual property can lead to considerable tax savings.

Clinton,Patrick and Wechsler,Jill. The View from Inside. Pharmaceutical Executive Vol. #:6

Starting Page:74 (2007) Abstract: Commissioner Andrew von Eschenbach on drug safety, DTC advertising, FDA's culture, and how the agency plans to bring itself into the age of molecular medicine.

Cook,R. Christopher and Leiken,Jonathan B. Foreign Policy. Pharmaceutical Executive Vol.

#:27 Issue:6 Starting Page:46 (2007) Abstract: Drug companies doing business abroad- and who isn't- face a special risk of running afoul of stepped-up enforcement of anticorruption laws. Travel alert: When in Rome, don't!!

Curry,Jim. Simulation Methodology for Facility Design. BioPharma International Vol. #:20

Issue:6 Starting Page:58 (2007) Abstract: Find out how simulation software can help ensure proper capacity planning and design.

DePalma,Angelo. Streamlining HPLC in Bioproduction. Genetic Engineering & Biotechnology News Vol. #:27 Issue:June Starting Page:48 (2007) Abstract: Customer needs are evolving beyond simple instrument performance and capabilities.

DePalma,Angelo. Optimized Facility Design and Utilization. Genetic Engineering & Biotechnology News Vol. #:27 Issue:9 Starting Page:48 (2007) Abstract: Practical considerations for ensuring integration, flexibility, and foresight.

Hindo,Brian. At 3M, A Struggle Between Efficiency and Creativity. Business Week Issue:11 June Starting Page:8 (2007) Abstract: Review of the impact of new management from GE and the consequences of the deployment of Six Sigma on creativity at 3M.

Mentesana,Mike. Pharmacovigilance Impacts Drug Safety. Genetic Engineering & Biotechnology News Vol. #:10 Starting Page:50 (2007) Abstract: Creating a flexible and proactive approach to patient protection.

Netterwald,James. Where's the Virus. Drug Discovery & Development Issue:June Starting Page:24 (2007) Abstract: DNA vaccine manufacturers look to take over the market aimed at protecting against viral pathogens.

Netterwald,James. Here Today, Gone Tomorrow. Drug Discovery & Development Vol. #:10 Issue:5 Starting Page:22 (2007) Abstract: Emerging pathogens are still a threat, but their lack of staying power has caused big drug companies to lose interest in combating them.

Perciali,Michael. Pharmaceutical Lab Construction. Controlled Environments Vol. #:10 Issue:6 Starting Page:18 (2007) Abstract: A Case Study.

Railkar, Aniruddha. Anticounterfeiting Measures for Pharmaceutical Products. American Pharmaceutical Review Vol. #:10 Issue:4 Starting Page:15 (2007) Abstract: Review of various measures such as RFID, Taggants, molecular markers, holograms.

Sharma, Bhanu P. Computer Systems Validation for US FDA's 21 CFR Part 11 Compliance: A Risk-based Approach to Pharmaceutical Good Manufacturing Practices (cGMP). American Pharmaceutical Review Vol. #:10 Issue:4 Starting Page:96 (2007) Abstract: The risk-based approach has been a challenge as firms modernize and integrate their IT systems to meet cGMP compliance requirements.

Shaw, Gina. Growing Fierce. Drug Discovery & Development Issue:June Starting Page:28 (2007) Abstract: Competition and growing pressures make marketing of generic pharmaceuticals downright ugly.

Thillaivinayagalingam, Pranavan, Newcombe, Anthony R. and Keshavarz-Moore, Eli. Biopharmaceutical Purification Strategies: Tutorial. Genetic Engineering & Biotechnology News Vol. #:27 Issue:1 Starting Page:52 (2007) Abstract: Bed-height optimization can reduce cost and increase speed of production.

Various Authors. Expanding Research Facilities: Supplement to Laboratory Equipment. Laboratory Equipment Vol. #:44 Issue:1 (Supplement) Starting Page:1 (2007) Abstract: Lab construction/renovation trends report for 2007.
