

Albano,Mark. Understanding the Pharmaceutical Manufacturing Process. Pharmaceutical Processing Vol. #:23 Issue:5 Starting Page:22 (2008) Abstract: Tools and techniques to integrate PAT into your process: A tutorial by a marketing manager from Honeywell Process Solutions.

Bell,Greg. Choosing a safe lubricant when working with reactive gases and chemicals. chem.info Vol. #:46 Issue:4 Starting Page:16 (2008) Abstract: Is your plant safe? Author works for DuPont Performance Lubricants.

Brinckerhoff,Coutenay C. Court Blocks PTO-Initiated Patent Reform. Genetic Engineering & Biotechnology Newsnet Vol. #:28 Issue:9 Starting Page:10 (2008) Abstract: If Congress gets involved, the outcome will not necessarily be any better for biotech firms.

Carlson,Bruce. Adults now drive growth of vaccine market. Genetic Engineering & Biotechnology News Vol. #:28 Issue:11 Starting Page:22 (2008) Abstract: Overview of the shift in markets driven by Merck's Gardasil.

DePalma,Angelo. PAT Initiative Helps Move HPLC Forward. Genetic Engineering & Biotechnology News Vol. #:28 Issue:11 Starting Page:46 (2008) Abstract: Achieving the speed, reliability, and robustness firms demand.

DePalma,Angelo. Versatility concerns impact facility design. Genetic Engineering & Biotechnology News Vol. #:28 Issue:9 Starting Page:44 (2008) Abstract: Current trends favor smaller, less capital-intensive manufacturing operations.

Dutton,Gail. Downstream bottlenecks: Are they myth or reality? Genetic Engineering & Biotechnology News Vol. #:28 Issue:8 Starting Page:1 (2008) Abstract: Throughput isn't where it should be, and there is some disagreement as to why.

Jackson,Jeff. Obstacles to Presterilized Single-Use Filling. Genetic Engineering & Biotechnology

News Vol. #:28 Issue:10 Starting Page:42 (2008) Abstract: Low-speed operations abound, but high-speed systems remain a technical challenge. Overview by director of product development from Bosch Packaging Technology.

Johnson,Barry, Persson,Johann and Nielsen,Tom Thane. Use of continuous plate reactor technology. Genetic Engineering & Biotechnology News Vol. #:28 Issue:9 Starting Page:50 (2008) Abstract: Tutorial: reshaping reactions in pharmaceuticals as well as fine and specialty chemicals. Authors work for Alfa Laval.

Mehta,Viren and Snyder,Eric. Biosimilars are poised to influence industry. Genetic Engineering

& Biotechnology News Vol. #:28 Issue:9 Starting Page:14 (2008) Abstract: Political interests and physicians' need to drive down costs could create a sizable segment.

Pearce,John A. Retaining Patent Profits. Drug Discovery & Development Issue:April Starting

Page:49 (2008) Abstract: When a patent expires your profits start to decline. The author however looks at some of the new strategies being utilized to get more mileage from a branded drug.

Spivak,Peter S. Off-Label Promotion under Scrutiny by DOJ. Genetic Engineering &

Biotechnology News Vol. #:28 Issue:11 Starting Page:10 (2008) Abstract: Department of Justice is aggressively pursuing healthcare fraud allegations: overview of firms being looked at and why.

Srebric,Jelena, Chen,Qingyan and Manning,Andrew. Diffuser models for airflow simulation.

Controlled Environments Vol. #:11 Issue:5 Starting Page:11 (2008) Abstract: Accurate simulation of the airflow and heat transfer in cleanrooms is highly dependent on the diffuser, yet diffusers have traditionally been very difficult to model. Authors work for Flomerics.

Stamaatatos, Frank and Ayer, Aaron. Airborne Security. Controlled Environments Vol. #:11

Issue:5 Starting Page:23 (2008) Abstract: Particles in a cleanroom environment must be removed. Particles that can reproduce themselves can become a difficult part of the problem to address. Authors work for StrionAir Corp.

Stover, John. How RFID solutions can bring increased level of product safety. chem.info Vol.

#:46 Issue:4 Starting Page:24 (2008) Abstract: For the process engineer: Nice brief overview with an especially nice list of advantages of RFID tabs.

Titmas, Ryan. Finding the Right Scale and Platform for Hazardous Areas. chem.info Vol. #:46

Issue:4 Starting Page:18 (2008) Abstract: Nice review from the perspective of Sartorius Mechatronics.